ACCURACY KILLS

When you can hit your mark, under any condition, that's what gets the job done. Cold temperatures. Long sits. Awkward shooting positions. To make the shot, every time, under any situation, it takes a bow that's lightweight, perfectly balanced and incredibly forgiving. A bow that packs more punch with less poundage - forever changing your perception of draw weight.

It's going to be a long season. You need an even tempered bow that performs consistently and reliably under real-life hunting conditions - from beginning to end.

That's Lobo™. The well-heeled hunting bow that's no bark and ALL bite.
